

How To Go From Overscheduled to Organized

Do you find yourself saying these words? " I just got too many things going on. I am so overscheduled..."

Ephesians 5:15-16

Do you have a written schedule? If not, try writing one down.

Is your current schedule working for you? Why or Why not?

If God were in charge of it, what would be different?

As you make a schedule, think about who you want to become...

- Closer to God?
- Debt free? (Financial Peace University coming in 2017.)
- Physically healthier?
- Healthy marriage?

What do you invest in to become the person God wants you to be?

- Small groups?
- Financial Peace University (coming in 2017)
- Exercise?
- Marriedpeople?

BIBLE APP by YOUVERSION

If you've yet to do so, we encourage you to download the Bible App by YouVersion on your smart phone. Create a free YouVersion account. In the today's technological era you have such power at your finger tips. We encourage you to harness that towards your relationship with Christ.

This is not just God first, it's infusing God into every area of your life.

We must indentify core issues that drive this kind of living and offer action steps to help you live a better way.

By eradicating clutter from your inner world, you can experience immediate rewards: greater energy, clearer purpose, richer relationships and more.

If you don't take control of your life, schedule and your money, they will take control of you.

You must learn when and how to say no, so that you can experience the best things: a simplified life.

Distracted v.40
mentally confused, deranged by grief or anxiety

Don't allow the distractions of your life to keep you stressed and distracted.
v. 40 - 42

Psalms 55:1-2 David is distracted. He starts out mentally exhausted but by v.22 is reminded and encouraged.

We encourage you every week to take a closer look at your life and answer these questions...

Is it simplified? Is God coming first? Is your family getting quality time from you?
Are you finding yourself empty?
